Iron And Steel

An Endurance Contest
Prices Still Firm
Consumers Waiting

MARKET developments in iron and steel throw in relief an endurance contest between the Chinese consumer and the American and English manufacturer. The consumer finds his needs growing, but views a waiting policy as wholly to his advantage, having an eye to price concession and no fear of securing quantity or delivery when he orders. A factor is that buyers long out of the market do not find it easy to adjust themselves to manufacturers' present prices. The last few weeks have been a disappointment in new business in steel. While some lines were fair and some even slightly better the total bookings were much below the beginning of October. The fact that there is nothing in sight to suggest higher prices for iron nad steel products and that there is a possibility of recessions tends to keep down purchases by the dealers to known requirements and for urgent needs. The dearth of new buying orders is due directly to a lack of confidence in the political situation in the country, and at the moment there is little in the way of encouragement for the remaining months of the years and possibly longer.

What effect the action of the Japanese buyers in removing whatever stocks they could lay hands on in Shanghai will have on future buying is problematical at the moment. Over 40,000 kegs of wire nails have been purchased by private Japanese interests in Shanghai for immediate shipment to Japan for reconstruction purposes. The normal stock of these in the local market is usually round 30,000 to 40,000 kegs, and the considerable buying that had been in progress last month has caused a deficiency in supplies here.

PRICES ARE HIGHER

It is estimated that at present there are in the hands of the dealers not more than 5,000 kegs of wire nails. An interesting fact is that the prices paid for the supplies for shipment to Japan from here were some ten percent higher than those ruling in the London and New York markets, necessitated principally by the urgent demand for these in Japan. The Japanese buyers are not interested in forward shipments as considerable stocks have already been ordered from the United States and England. During the next few days some 30,000 kegs of wire nails are expected to arrive in Shanghai against contracts previously concluded with American, Canadian and Continental manufacturers. For the time being there is a depletion of stocks in Shanghai but with the steady arrivals of goods this situation should disappear.

The demand for copper is still poor, all the copper mints with the exception of the one in Wuchang being closed down. Even the Wuchang Mint is operating at present at half capacity, and, it is stated, has bought its requirements of copper up till February and March. There are held in stock in Shanghai about a hundred tons of refined copper. The copper mint in Wuchang is consuming now refined copper which is slightly cheaper than electrolytic copper, the former being quoted at 12½ cents gold per pound and the latter at a quarter cent gold per pound higher.

SCANT INTEREST

In spite of the fact that at present copper is retailing at almost rock bottom prices there is no disposition to operate, lack of funds being a great obstacle in the way of the mints in China. During the last few days there has been a decline in the price of electrolytic copper of a cent gold per pound, but this has aroused no interest on this side. The cheapest price for electrolytic copper in recent years was touched in September, 1921 when it went down to 12 cents gold. Today it is slightly higher than that, being quoted at 12¼ cents gold per pound.

The rise in the value of tin has killed all chances of trade in this commodity. The London price is very steady at £208 per ton, while Hongkong tin is quoted at Tls. 77 per picul exgodown Shanghai. The Shaoshing District, which is at all times a large purchaser of Hongkong tin, has been out of the market, as present levels are considered too high for the canners there. Stocks of Hongkong tin in that district stand at around 2,000 to 3,000 slabs, while in Shanghai there is extremely little on offer. Sing-

WILD RIOTS IN POLICE STRIKE AT MELBOURNE

650 Walk Out After Dispute With Commissioner

£50,000 DAMAGE

Volunteers Called To Preserve Order In City

(Reuter's Service)

Melbourne, Nov. 4.—Strikes of 650 police in consequence of the refusal of the Commissioner to remove supervisors, who were accused of spying methods, has led to serious rioting. Trains were overturned, shop-windows were smashed and many shops were looted. The damage is estimated at over £50,000. Up to the present two deaths have occurred and 55 arrests have been made. Loyal special police, bluejackets and some constables on strike dispersed the crowds with batons. Many rioters were injured

Parties of military are now guarding public buildings.

The Premier, Mr. Lawson, states that the Govenment has decided that it is impossible to reinstate any striker. "They have been false to their oaths and have left the city at the mercy of lawless elements."

The Cabinet has appealed to all fit men of military age to enrol as special constables. It is reported that a mounted police force, consisting of volunteers from the Australian Light Horse, is being formed.

It is announced that every conceivable step will be taken to prevent recrudescence of disorders. The Government intends to raise 5,000 special constables.

SQUABBLE ON SPEAKERSHIP ENDS SESSION

Parliament At Peking Breaks Up In Row Over Choice Of New Head

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 5.—Tremendous local interest was centered on this afternoon's first extraordinary meeting of Parliament, when the main questionon on the agenda was the vote on the nomination of Mr. Sun Pao-chi as Premier. Lurid proceedings were expected as it was known that a group of Mr. Wu Ching-lien's opponents intended to bring up at the beginning of the meeting tha question of his right to retain the Speakership.

The meeting opened at 3 o'clock. Mr. Wu Ching-lien not being present a member of the Opposition took the floor and contended that Mr. Wu Ching-lien's term had ended and that it was necessary to appoint a new Speaker. He then formally nominated Mr. Ku Chih-jual, the oldest Member, as Speaker. The seconder of the nomination strongly supported the view that Mr. Wu Ching-lien was not qualified and a vote was about to be taken when Mr. Wu, accompanied by a bodyguard, entered the House and immediately proceeded to the Chair but Mr. Fu Po-ying intercepted him and attempted to push him away.

Thereupon a scuffle ensued and an uproar followed during which the majority of the Members left the House, Mr. Wu Ching-lien following. The meeting thus ended.

Abbeyfield Wins St. Leger, Shenkoland The Criterions; As Autumn Meeting Opens

First Day Of Races Brings Out Record Crowd, Splendid Racing And One Big Dividend—Cock o' Th North Qualifies

Abbeyfield won the Shanghai St. Leger, the big race of the opening day of the Autumn meeting on the Shanghai track yesterday, and Shenkoland, former Champion and favorite contender for this year's race, won The Criterions. The two races were the outstanding events on a program that included several wonderful neck-and-neck races, a large crowd, a record dividend of over $228, and saw eleven ponies qualify for The Champion's tomorrow.

Abbeyfield, Cock o' Th North and Shenkoland, three of the most talked about Champion's contender's led the list of qualifiers, which was featured by the fact that three Stitt and Stephen entries—Cock o' Th North, Coq Glaulois and Kupi—were among those who won the right to run in the biggest race of the year tomorrow afternoon

Abbeyfield, Mr. Henry Morriss' St. Leger winner, won the event from a field that included Danesfield, Harvest King and Forestland. Abbeyfield and Fling Arrow took the lead, but passing the stands Abbeyfield forged ahead followed by St. Blaise. At the Loong Fei gate Danesfield took the lead from his stable companion and held it until about one furlong from the finishing line when Abbeyfield went to the front and won comfortably. Danesfield was second and Harvest King third. Forestland never figured in the running.

POOR GRIFFINS

The opening event, the Royal Navy Cup and Subscription Griffins stakes for 3-4 mile clearly showed the superiority of Coq Glaulois, Stephen & Stitt's entry, over this Fall's crop of griffins. Coq Glaulois, with Hill up, won easily by two lengths with Mur-Hol's Uncle Sammy, ridden by Knoll, an easy second. Mr. R. J. Paterson's griffin, Reelo, Henry up, was third. The griffins were strung out all over the field from the post and from the Widow's Monument to the finish line it was simply one, two, three, just as THE CHINA PRESS tips had picked the winner and place ponies. The time was 1.36 2-5, very slow in comparison to The Hawk's record for the distance of 1.27 1-5.

The Maloo Plate was bitterly contested between Wyvliesfield and The King. They crossed the tape with a mere frog's hair separating them and the race was called a dead heat. Mr. Henry Morriss' Wyvliesfield led from the post and until just in front of the Member's stand, when Mrs. Burkill's The King evened up and then forged a neck ahead. Mr. Heard managed to inject a little extra spurt into the Morriss pony, however, and made it a dead heat, both good ponies qualifying for The Champions. Wyvliesfield was not favored by the betting public and consequently paid $56.10 for the tie. The time was 57 3-5, comparing favorably with Set's record of 55 3-5 under the circumstances.

THE CRITERION

For years it has been said that the winner of The Criterion's mile race would be the winner of The Champion's. It has not always worked out that way, any more that Maine's being the barometer of American elections has always held true. Shenkoland won the race in the spring and fall of 1922 and was second in both in 1922. Old Bill won the three previous races.

Both Old Bill and Shenkoland, much talked of for The Champions, and old rivals, were entered yesterday but Dallas on Shenkoland won by an easy two lengths. Old Bill led from the start with Henryfield in second place, but between the Widow's Monument and the straightaway Shenkoland came up and went into first. In the straightaway Arnhold and H. Sassoon's Roman Republic also forged to the front, passing Old Bill by the grandstands, and finishing a good second by two lengths, and forcing the Bremner mount to go out again to qualify.

GOOD DIVIDEND

Mr. M. M. Sokoloff's chesnut Ataman sprung the biggest and earliest surprise of the meet by making easy work of defeating the top-heavy favorite in the last race yesterday morning—the Maiden Stakes. Mr. Morriss' Dukesfield has looked so good in practice gallops that it went to the post with the hopes of 1370 bettors, while Ataman, a rank outsider, carried only 59 hunch bets. The 59 with the lucky hunch

FIVE SHIPS IN DISTRESS OFF PACIFIC COAST

U. S. S. New Mexico Collides With Standard Oil Tanker

(Exclusive China Press)

San Francisco, Nov. 2.—The U. S. S. New Mexico, a dreadnaught of the Pacific fleet, a Standard Oil tanker, the Japanese freighter Shinkoku Maru, the coasting steamer Elizabeth, and an unidentified vessel were reported in distress off the Pacific Coast last night as a result of a series of collisions and bad weather conditions.

What the fate of the five vessels is or how seriously they are damaged is not known as yet. The only information that is available as yet has been received in S. O. S. calls and fragmentary radio dispatches.

The New Mexico and the Standard Oil tanker, according to these messages, collided near Los Angeles harbor. There are no details as to the damage done in the collision.

The coasting steamer Elizabeth is aground on the Oregon coast, and the Shinkoku Maru broke a propellor shaft while en route to Vancouver.

A case of ship's spare parts was washed ashore on Vancouver Island, but there were no identifying marks to indicate what vessel it had come from. It is believed that this ship, too, met with some sort of an accident off the coast.

Lady Luck Sure Dodged When She Saw Us Coming

By Irene Corbally Kuhn

A wise man once remarked "Don't explain; your friends don't need it and your enemies won't believe it." This man never lived in Shanghai, however, for explain is what everyone here is doing nothing else but, especially if they've been to the races.

There are only two kinds of circulation to one's person at the races—a winning pony, and why you were. However, I have to concern myself with giving ten explanations for being unfortunate, one for each race.

I didn't want to go, anyway. As a poor but honest working girl I see no reason for being a fence flower even though I have a good pair of binoculars which I can sling across my shoulder and look as racy as any member. Going to the races without any betting equipment is like going to a dance minus your feet.

However, the boss thought the scenery out at the race course should be augmented by my presence. I protested. I have temptations enough without going to the races without any money.

AWAY WE GO

"Oh, if that's all that's worrying you we can fix you up," said the boss who is an expert at these things.

"We'll advance you $50 expense money. You just go out and play your hunches. If you get any tips, all right. Just use your own judgement. If you lose, put it on the expense account and buy a new typewriter for the office."

Fair enough. I got the fifty and went.

The first thing I got after I arrived at the course was an elaborate set of directions from a handsome policeman as to just which gate I might be able to get in at if I was lucky. The next thing was a snappy little Barney Google tip card issued by that more or less well-known paper, THE CHINA PRESS.

The tips in the first race seemed perfect. However, it was too much like praising one's own child to follow the tips of one's own paper. So I picked out a good name and put a win and place bet on "Thirteen" because that has always been my lucky number. You know the answer. Ten down.

THESE WERE HOT!

Then I met a friend. He known more about China ponies than I do about hard luck.

"Put your money on "Wyvliesfield," he advised.

I started off to the betting booth, but I met another friend. He knows more about China ponies than the first one.

"Put your money on "The King," he said.

Well, what could a poor girl do? They couldn't both be right and yet they couldn't both be wrong. I sashayed around. Finally I decided to put $5 for win on each one. But there were so many other good names around that I hesitated. Then there was a jam, and five or six people got in my way. By the time I reached the booth to place a bet on each pony the bell had rung. There must have been a curse on me for they both won! The only dead heat of the day and a fine dead head for me!

"Old Bill" was listed for the Criterion Stakes, the third race. "Old Bill" is a long way from being finished and I had so much confidence in Antique William that I didn't even put a place bet on him. I just stuck $5 on his nose to win. He placed. Down $15 so far.

I had a good time reading the roll for the fourth race. "Ataman' ought to be pretty good. Wonder if he's related to 'Attaboy'" I mused. The matter of possible relationship between this griffin and the famous old line kept me occupied for some minutes. I was sure of this hunch, though. So much so that on my way to

FRENCH REPLY TO U.S. NOTE RECEIVED AT WASHINGTON

Allied Inquiry Is Now Believed To Be Feasible

VIEW OF PARIS

No Reduction Unless French Debts Are Also Cut

(BY UNITED PRESS)

Washington, Nov. 4.—The French embassy here has received the reply of Premier Poincare to Secretary of State Hughes' note which voiced the objections of the United States to limitations on the scope of the proposed inquiry into Germany's capacity to pay reparations as fixed by the treaty of Versailles. It is expected that the note will be delivered on Monday.

M. Jusserand, French ambassador to the United States, has just returned from Paris and will probably confer with Secretary Hughes on Monday.

It is generally believed here that it will be possible to hold the proposed inter-allied inquiry, as much importance is attached to the evidence of British, Belgian and Italian accord in the matter.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Nov 4.—It is semi-officially stated that France cannot accept a partial reduction of the German debt unless France's own debts to Britain and America are reduced in the same proportions.

(Reuter's Service)

Brive, Correze, Nov. 4.—M. Poincare in a speech at the unveiling of a war memorial here today emphasized with regard to the enquiry into Germany's present capacity to pay, the determination of France to keep with in the Treaty and the desirability of seeking for realities beneath the rags and tatters with which the Reich was camouflaging itself. Obviously before making payment Germany must reform her finances, restore her currency and put herself in a position to raise a foreign loan. Whatever the decision of German populations might be with regard to their political future, France would render fresh aggession for ever impossible. France had no idea of appropriating directly or indirectly any territory and meant to respect the freedom of the populations, but the argument that, if a group of inhabitants of Germany proclaimed their independence, revision of the Treaty of Versailles would naturally follow, appeared contrary to the principles and rights of nations. Whatever occurred within the Reich would not exempt the Allies from observing the Treaty.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Nov. 3—There is reason to believe that M. Poincare's further communication to the British Embassy today still insists on the necessity of limiting the scope of the proposed committee of experts.

BERLIN READY FOR TROUBLE WITH BAVARIA

Measures Taken For Defense Against Unlawful Attacks

(Reuter's Service)

Aix-la-Chapelle, Nov. 3.—The Separatists have hitherto enjoyed immunity in the French and Belgian occupied zones, but they received a nasty setback at Aix-la-Chapelle yesterday.

Fifteen hundred of them from Coblence, Crefeld and Duisburg invaded the town and stormed the town-hall after a desperate fight with the police defenders with many casualties. While they were congratulating themselves on their success, the Separatists received an order from the Inter-Allied Commission to lay down their arms and evacuate the town in 90 minutes.

This was accomplished by a miracle, though an angry crowd hauled four out of the departing train and beat two of them to death. The police rescued the others in a dying condition. After the departure of the Separatists the British Consul visited the scene and received an ovation from the crowd. Belgian gendarmes subsequently dispersed the crowd. The historic treasures of the town-hall have been irretrievably damaged.

(Reuter's Service)

Cologne, Nov. 3.—The disarmament and explusion of the Separatists at Aix-la-Chapelle by the Belgian authorities yesterday was followed today by similar action throughout the Belgian occupation zone amid universal rejoicings. Display of Separatist banners and flags is forbidden.

Lady Luck Dodged When She Saw Us

the booth I stopped to get a good view of a coat I planned on getting with the proceeds. I got to the booth just as they were closing.

HE WON, BUT DID I?

Slap! Ten dollars down to win on 'Ataman' that's now sure I was. Did he win? He did. Delirious with $457.40 worth of joy I rushed up to collect my two dividends. Yes, they were very sorry for me. I had two win tickets but, unfortunately they were for an also ran. A simple matter of being in a hurry and buying at the wrong window. Yes, tough luck wasn't it?

After this expedience I figured that I'd do much better if I went far, far away from that place. So I went over and bought a couple of sweeps on the 6th race.

NO SURPRISES HERE

When, in the 5th race, "Del Monte" was posted I figured that any horse that had been raised on hamme and eggs couldn't possibly lose I dropped another $5 on him. When the sad news came in I had the perfect alibi. He'd probably have won if I had signed a chit for the bet.

I now took up a nice easy position in front of the blackboard where they put up the sweeps numbers. The ones I had were winners in one of last year's races, I know because I got stung then, too.

Not much pep, but $10 left.

Just for a change I passed up the seventh.

And the eighth.

With the last remaining ten, all tied up with admonitions to bring home some money to mamma, I put a win bet on "Day of Surprise," in the hope that the same would be true, and a place bet on "Kupi" just for fun. I was absolutely right—only turned around.

There is only one thing that could have made me feel worse at the end of a terrible day and that is suppose the $50 had belonged to me and wasn't one of those nice expense account accommodations!

BRITISH FLEET HOLDS REVIEW FOR PREMIERS

Seventy Vessels In Maneuvers Off Spithead Seen By Dominion Leaders

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 3.—In fine weather with a strong breeze blowing, Mr. Amery, the First Lord of the Admiralty, Mr. Massey, Mr. Bruce, Mr. Mackenzie King and three hundred distinguished guests inspected off Spithead the Atlantic Fleet of 70 vessels, all built since 1914. The warships were assembled in five lines, and stretched for a total length of fifteen miles.

The Premiers and the other guests were on board the minelayer, H.M.S. Princess Margaret, and steamed through the lines of vessels, manned and with bands playing. Vice-Admiral Sir E. S. Alexander-Sinclair's flagship, H.M.S. Queen Elizabeth, fired a salute as the Dominion Premiers passed. The Premiers were particularly interested in the latest battle-cruisers, H.M.S. Hood and Repulse which are going on the Empire cruise, and also in H.M.S. Argus which was carrying 20 aeroplanes.

In the course of the afternoon's program destroyers advanced to attack the Dominions Premiers' vessels. The whole Fleet subsequently developed evolutions within a ten-mile radius, after which the Dominions Premiers returned to Portsmouth.

When the Aquitania, carrying the departing American Ambassador, Col. Harvey, passed, Mr. Amery on behalf of the Premiers and himself, sent a wireless message wishing him a pleasant voyage and a quick return to Old England.

Coolidge Explains New 'Booze' Treaty

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Nov. 3.—It is stated that President Coolidge is of opinion that the provision of the proposed Treaty with Britain allowing ships to bring sealed liquor into American ports merely abolishes the penalties under the Volstead Act. He believed that the bringing of such liquor into ports will no more conflict with the Constitution than the present exemption to ships passing through the Panama Canal.

LLOYD GEORGE COMPLETES HIS TOUR OF U.S.

All New York Cheers Final Appearance Of Britain's Former Premier

(Reuter's Service)

New York, Nov. 3.—The Opera House was packed and thousands were unable to gain admission on the occasion of the farewell speech of Mr. Lloyd George, who was accorded an ovation. The ex-Premier said that the Versailles Treaty was not responsible for the present peril in Europe. Every treaty depended on the manner of its application. He reiterated his support of Mr. Hughes's proposal and declared: "The world will be better to-morrow when it knows that the interest of America in human rights is unweakened." Mr. Lloyd George leaves for home today.

Mr. Lloyd George's farewell speech was featured in all the morning papers, adorned with flaming headlines.

The New York Tribune in a leading article declares that Mr. Lloyd George's pleading for friendship and accord between England and America strikes a note that will be heard sympathetically throughout the nation.

The Chief of Police states that the arrangements to safeguard the ex-Premier at the Opera House were as complete as though he had been the President of the United States himself. Five hundred police were required to keep order outside the Opera House.

(Reuter's Service)

New York, Nov. 3.—Mr. Lloyd George, having completed his tour, embarked for home today on board the s.s. Majestic. Thousands cheered the British ex-Premier along the route from the hotel.

An Indian, alleged to be a supporter of Gandhi, was removed from the vessel before it sailed on account of an alleged irregularity in his passport. American officials say that he had followed Mr. Lloyd George from the outset of his tour and had been detained by the Canadian authorities.

Japanese Budget Suffers Big Cut

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, Nov. 3.—Estimates for the present fiscal year have been reduced owing to the decrease in the national revenues caused by the recent earthquake disaster. The estimates decided upon at today's cabinet meeting are over 1,222,000,000 Yen which shows a decrease by 157,000,000 Yen as compared with the estimates already fixed prior to the earthquake.

The decrease represents retrenchment in naval expenses by 37,000,000 Yen; army expenses by 7,000,000 and expenses of the Home Department by 13,000,000 Yen.

As for the Budget for the next fiscal year, the cabinet commenced its deliberations today. It is reported that the Finance Department has under consideration a plan to effect an extreme financial retrenchment, fixing the budget at 1,204,000,000 Yen, and to reduce by 50 percent the ordinary expenses throughout all departments.

STARR RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF ASIA LIFE CO.

Hunter Mann And Thomas L. Miller Added To Directorate

Mr. C. V. Starr was re-elected President, and Mr. Hunter Mann of Hankow and Mr. Thomas L. Miller of Tientsin, were added to the Board of Directors at the deferred annual general meeting of the shareholders of the Asia Life Insurance Company held on Saturday.

Directors re-elected were Mr. C. L. Seitz, Mr. F. J. Raven, Mr. C. V. Starr, Mr. A. K. Taylor and Mr. B. C. Sienkevitch, all of Shanghai. Officers re-elected in addition to Mr. Starr were Dr. Frank B. Baldwin, vice-president; Mr. Alfred K. Taylor, secretary; Mr. C. L. Seitz, treasurer; Mr. H. A. Pan, assistant treasurer, and C. Paul, assistant secretary.

Mr. Mann is widely known in China as the General Manager of L. C. Gillespie and Sons, and Mr. Miller, now retired, is a valuable addition to directorate because of his many years of insurance including having been President of the West Coast Life Insurance Company of San Francisco.

The report of the President concerning the progress of the company was very satisfactory. March showed the highest written business of any month up to that time. August exceeded March by a good amount and October again surpassed August by a large margin. The company now has in force considerably more than $6,000,000 of insurance and is operating on low expense. The shares of the company are now quoted at 200 on the market and are difficult to get at that price.

London's Views On Japanese Insurance

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 5.—The Times City Correspondent, dealing with the settlement of Japanese earthquake claims, says that British companies can only be interested observers of developments like the reported willingness of certain Japanese companies to pay ten percent of the values which were insured against fire. He declares that it is well-understood that ex-gratia payments in connection with fire insurance are only justified when no large principle is involved. A Liberal interpretation of their liabilities by underwriters conduces to the credit of insurance, but any sort of payment respecting risks definitely excluded would imperil the sound methods on which fire insurance is conducted.

London, Nov. 3.—The Crown Prince of Sweden and Lady Louise Mountbatten were married today at the Chapel Royal in St. James' Palace in the presence of King George and Queen Mary, Queen Alexandra, the King of Sweden, the Queen of Greece, the Prince of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of York, Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles and other Royal and Diplomatic guests.

The Chapel was radiant with white and gold costumes, scarlet and blue uniforms and glittering orders and decorations. The bride wore a gown of Indian silver gauze.

spore tin is quoted at Ts. 80 per picul ex-godown Shanghai.

The announcement that the F. M. S. Government has disposed of 2,000 tons of its tin holdings has not affected the market to any very appreciable extent. The original holdings of the F.M.S. Government were 10,000 tons, and the arrangement between the parties to the agreement was to release the whole of the 17,600 tons concerned in 20 months to the respective holders, the total amount released per month on the agreed basis to be 880 tons, the parties to hold or sell at their discretion. The scheme became operative on April 1 last. It will thus be seen that the F.M.S. Government has in about six months disposed of a fifth of its share of the "pool" tin. At the same rate of disposal a further period of two years would elapse before it got rid of the remaining 8,000 tons.

LONDON UNPERTURBED

The total of 17,600 tons of metallic tin involved in the Handoeng agreement was made up as follows: F.M.S. Government 10,000 tons in ingots, Straits Trading Company, Ltd., 2,600 tons in ore, Netherlands East Indies Government 4,000 tons in ingots and ore in equal quantities, and the Billiton Maatschappij, 1,000 tons in ingots. Of the 17,600 tons, 13,600 tons were Straits tin and 4,000 tons Banka. How the holdings of the Netherlands East Indies Government and the Straits Trading Company stand, no information seems to be vouchsafed, but in spite of the knowledge that "pool" stocks of tin are still not entirely disposed of the London tin market seems to regard the future with composure.

During the last few weeks the Japanese have been buying galvanised sheets in the local market, some 3,000 cases having been taken off for immediate shipment to Japan. As in the case of wire nails, the price paid for this product has been some ten percent higher than the prevailing London or New York rate. Stocks are very small just now in Shanghai. Supplies are not expected to come through very soon. The prevailing quotation is Ts. 13.00 to Ts. 13.50 per picul. Forward deliveries have been offered to the Japanese buyers but they have been turned down, as Japan has placed already in England and the United States orders for some 40,000 tons.

The lifting of duty on articles for rebuilding purposes in Japan has scarcely made any impression on the market, iron being about the only exception, which has suffered in Japan a reaction from the recent advance. There is a brisk Japanese business in iron plates and nails, and large orders have already been placed abroad to arrive in Japan between December and January. If these shipments reach 30 or 40 million yen in value as reported, the Japanese market should suffer. Prices given by the Government of Japan for iron plate are said to leave a margin of 20 percent.

The Japanese interests have been attempting to buy antimony in Shanghai but have been unsuccessful in obtaining supplies.

Early Ruling On France Dispute Is Sought By French

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 2.—Chinese circles report that the French Minister has requested the Chinese Government to solve as early as possible the gold franc problem in view of the early sitting of the French Chamber. Questioned on this subject at the Waichiaopu this morning, Dr. Wellington Koo said that he could make no statement as the question was essentially a financial matter. It is understood that the Cabinet discussed the question yesterday and gave the Minister of Finance full power to negotiate with the French Minister.

In the days of the wasp waist, germ-catcher long skirt and waterfall coiffure the doctors started—and kept up—a tirade against corsets as a detriment to feminine health. "Today medical authorities conceding that the corset of modern design, properly selected and fitted by an expert and worn by a woman who takes daily, exercise is a boon to health. Walkers Out For First Training Hike; Squad Led By Fast Steppers

N. Webb And Other Six Footers Set Swift Pace For Tenderfeet, But All Enjoy Workout, American Candidates Wanted

By What's Left Of Westa

LAST evening about 6 o'clock the first squad to begin training for the forthcoming international walking race left the New Carlton theater and were out an hour and a half. Mr. Norman Webb, of the S. M. C. Revenue Department, led the pack, taking a route that led up Bubbling Well Road to Gordon Road, out Gordon Road to Soochow, thence via Robinson Road to Hangchow, and back via Bubbling Well Road to the starting point. Divide the distance factor by the time factor and your quotient will be the miles-per-hour factor; contemplation of which will cause you to wonder why the traffic cops permitted any such ruthless violation of the speed laws.

The answer is that Webb and his gang went by so fast that the traffic cops couldn't see them for dust. Mr. Webb, it may be remarked, is the guy that put the train in training—yeh, one of those limited, extra fare, solid Pullman trains that make the telegraph poles look like a fine tooth comb, and which you couldn't stop with all the red flags in Russia.

A MERE STROLL

Another goof and I, neither of us as thin or as young as we once were, started out with this squad. Mr. Webb, it will be recalled by customers of this column, had announced earlier that the first walk would be over a very moderate distance and at a slow pace—say three or four miles at not to exceed four miles an hour.

"How fast is three or four miles an hour?" we asked.

"Oh, nothing! Nothing at all," Mr. Webb assured us. "A mere stroll!"

So we trailed along, strolling as strong as any of them when we passed the Race Club's entrance; but both of us beginning even then to question in our own minds whether it wouldn't have been just as well if we had left our overcoats at Mr. Wentworth's picture palace; an ante-room of which the proprietor had kindly permitted us to use as a starting headquarters.

Both of us cast furtive glances from side to side as we strolled past the Senior Consulate with our speedometers climbing rapidly to thirty, hoping to catch sight of an acquaintance among the curious motorists who tried desperately but vainly to pull alongside, thinking thus to dispose of our bennies; but neither of us saw anybody that we knew.

"Let's (puff) put (whiff) our coats (wheeze) in a ricsha," (whuff) the other chap said to me.

"If we stop (puff) to take them off (whiff) we'll never (wheeze) overtake this outfit again," (whuff) I said.

WE SHED OUR BENNIES

By the time we reached Leon Friendman's garage the removal of our overcoats had became absolutely imperative, as the motorcars puffing behind were skidding all over the street, due to the perspiration that was dripping from our steaming frames, threatening to run us down. So by watching our chance we caught a ricsha puller who had scented a fare and who was travelling rapidly in the same direction we were, and by the deft process known in railroad yards as the flying switch we managed to get our coats into his vehicle, at the same time wig wagging him to follow after us as best he could.

Some of the other tenderfeet in the squad later made use of our ricsha, coats and hats being piled on until the two wheeler, in the darkness of Robinson Road, finally took on the appearance of a load of hay. The Wang Bu Tso did not check in at the finishing post with the squad, but some of the Police Department walkers told us not to worry; that he was an honest ricsha boy and that, given time, he would return.

I'll say, remembering the distance we annihilated and the dizzy pace at which we put it behind us, that if he maintains a good average ricsha puller's pace he will check in some time next week.

NO TIME TO SPIT

As we were strolling along Robinson Road like a flock of fire engines one of the Englishmen up in front, with legs on him as long as fishing poles, happened to glance around and saw that I had a cigar in my mouth.

"Hey," he said, with kindly intent, "better cut out smoking if you expect to get anywhere in this race." Said it just like that, as easily as if he had been sitting in a rocking chair.

His mistake I wasn't smoking. Truth is I had started the walk with the stogie burning, but it soon went out. I started to explain to Long Legs that I had been thinking of the stogie from the time we had passed Mohawk Road, and that I had been waiting all that time for the pace to slacken a bit so I could find time to take it out of my mouth. Oh yes, I know a lot of those who are reading this poor account will pause to say: "That's a poor line; what was to prevent him from spitting it out?"

Well, the answer is that sometimes a man can be so busy that he hasn't even time to expel a burned out stogie from his mouth, as witness the classic reply of Uncle Joe Cannon, former Speaker of the House of Representatives and one of the best known figures in American public life, to the query of his friend, the late Theodore Roosevelt, as to what progress he was making in his effort to learn to ride a bicycle.

"Well," said Uncle Joe, "I've got to the point where I can ride and spit."

Take it from one who was there, you haven't even got that much free time at your disposal when you are strolling along in the wake of Webb and those Police seven footers. Stop to spit and you are left behind—out there in the darksome country miles beyond the ricsha zone.

HE KNEW ACCURACY

A few days ago when I read a clipping in Henry Quelch's scrap book giving an account of the Shanghai walking race of 1904, in which the statement was made that one of the competitors smiled and chatted with his friends as he passed the Bubbling Well, while to the majority of the others "a smile was out of the question," I put it down to a bit of journalistic naivete. Now I know that there was a reporter who would have delighted the heart of the late Joseph Pulitzer, whose guiding principle, and one to which he was passionately devoted, was: Accuracy, Terseness, Accuracy.

When that Shanghai reporter of twenty years ago wrote of the contestants in the walking race that "a smile was out of the question" he spoke tersely and he certainly spoke accurately.

I hope I am conveying something in the nature of an idea as to how rapidly those birds ambled, and how extremely difficult it was to keep up with them.

Well, all joshing aside, it was great sport, and take it from me: this walking race is going to be BIG. Walking, they say, is the simplest of sports; to which it might be retorted, if it were necessary to retort, that these so called simple sports have a kick in them that the unitiated seldom suspect, and if you think this walking match won't have a kick in it, just wait until December 16. It is going to be GREAT, and no foolin!

Already there is great rivalry. The Police teams, already fit, are training hard, and from now on they will train harder than ever. The French are getting up a team: so are the Japanese and Chinese.

The only nationals that are hanging back are the Americans, and that is a condition that must be remedied. Surely there are some good walkers here among the Americans, and now is the time for them to get busy. The training season is none too long, and in view of the class of competition that will be met the American candidates will have to get busy quickly if they hope to make a good showing.

Practice hikes will continue every evening for the time being, starting from the Carlton Theater.

FERRIER---GRAY REACH FINAL IN BIG GOLF TEST

Sunday's Play Rather Disappointing; Crompton Off Form

The semi-final round of the Shanghai Golf Club's championship series at Kiangwan Sunday resulted in victories for Mr. Ferrier, who overwhelmed Mr. Crompton, 12—11, and Mr. Gray, who finished ahead of Mr. Richards, 3—1. Contrary to expectations the latter match turned out to be better than the Ferrier-Crompton contest as far as interest in the outcome was concerned. Mr. Richards was one up at the end of the first eighteen holes, and held his advantage through most of the afternoon round, slipping badly on the sixteenth and seventeenth holes.

Mr. Crompton, a great natural golfer, simply couldn't get his clubs to working, although he pulled off some truly remarkable shots. His two woods that put him hole high on the fifth in the morning round were beauties; spoiled, however, by his subsequent trio of putts.

Mr. Ferrier was the same steady player of old, negotiating the entire round in close to par figures, and with but three or four slips.

Interest now centers in the championship round of next Sunday, with Mr. Ferrier meeting Mr. Gray. The latter is a player of great steadiness who gets results despite his failure to drive a long ball from the tee. It is generally felt that he will give the champion a harder battle than he has ever had in a championship final. Sunday's scores:

Abbeyfield Wins St. Leger, Shenkoland The Criterions

collected $228.79 for their long shot, Ataman winning by two lengths in 1.30 1-5 (the record for the mile is held by The Hawk at 1.27 1-5), with Dukesfield with Mr. Morriss up, second, and St. George, piloted by Mr. Brand, third. As a result of qualifying in such manner Ataman will unquestionably carry more bets when he goes to the post in The Champions tomorrow.

We Two's bay Young Bill won the Fah Wah Stakes, the longest race of the day, by many lengths. All Sorts took the lead and held it until past the stands when Spark Plug jumped ahead. Mr. Sutterlee's pony was passed by Columbia at the Monument and into the straight. Young Bill came up on the outside a furlong from the tape and won with room to spare, Columbia, the second finisher, was many lengths ahead of King's Cross. Columbia's disappointing showing apparently removes the much-touted pony of last year from The Champions talk.

ATAMAN BEATEN

After Ataman's brilliant victory in the morning Mr. Sokoloff took the pony out again in the Eclipse Stakes but the game little speeder was unequal to the task, and finished third despite the big play he had from the betters. Washington, Mr. Allan's bay, ridden by Mr. Knoll, proved the surprise of the race by winning from Woodland, one of the best griffins in the Day stable, by a neck. Hill on Roman Parrott made the running and held the lead until the home stretch when Washington and Woodland came up with a nose-and-nose rush. Ataman made a game finish but couldn't quite make the grade.

Mr. Burkill rode Kupi to victory in the ninth race with Seacroft (Liddell) and Day of Surprise (Bremner) tagging along behind.

The tenth race provided another upset of the dope. Hill on Sunny Jim won by three lengths in nice fashion with Patterson on the Rosenfeld pony, San Leandro, second, and Bremner on Dunmore, third. The two favorites Silver Lining and Digger were out of the picture completely.

LOCAL FIRM SAVES
Tls. 3,000
ON PRINTING BILLS

We have a testimonial from a local firm who saved Tls. 3,000 on their printing bills, by using a
for reproducing their new code. By this method their code was finished quicker and more privately than could have been done outside. They also reproduce their office forms, engineering specifications, diagrams, and form letters.

You may not have so much printing to do as this firm, but if you use form letters, or printed forms of any kind a MIMEOGRAPH will save money for you. Let us show you how.

JAPAN IS UNIT IN GRATITUDE TO AMERICANS

Increase In Friendliness Is Big Development In Wake Of Quake

(Exclusive China Press)

Tokio, Nov. 5.—A remarkable increase in Japanese friendliness toward America is the outstanding development in the wake of the earthquake disaster. Expressions of appreciation of America's efforts to relieve the great distress caused by the catastrophe are becoming more universal every day and indicate that the nation is finally realising that "a friend in need is a friend indeed."

Particularly noticeable is the friendly tone in the Japanese press, a portion of which formerly seized every opportunity to direct hostile criticism against America. Today the newspapers are united in fostering good-will and praise the generous humanitarianism of America.

The significant dispute attending Chinese adherence to the Federal Telegraph Company contract for the erection of radio stations in China has been practically ignored editorially, although the issue offers the jingoists an excellent opportunity to score American interests and open an old sore. This is taken to indicate that the press is anxious to secure an amicable settlement of the problem without arousing the public, thus entering a new era of accord across the Pacific.

High Cotton Here To Stay, Is View Of Manchester Now

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 3.—Manchester is resigned to the conviction that lower prices for cotton are out of the question in view of the official report of a short American crop. Hope prevails that firm prices will now attract orders.

(Reuter's Service)

Complete The War Memorial!

WITHOUT having any definite facts at hand, we venture however the assertion that Shanghai probably has the doubtful honor of being the last city in the world to complete its war memorial. It would be pretty difficult to find a city or town in America or Europe that hasn't constructed some kind of a memorial to those who gave their lives in the World War. There may be cases where the memorial has taken the form of an elaborate public building that may still be in process of construction, but we believe we are safe in saying that most of these monuments erected over the world to those who gave their lives for the cause of liberty, have been completed—with the exception of Shanghai.

The international committee headed by Sir Edward Pearce has had a most difficult task in connection with the erection of Shanghai's War Memorial but most of these problems, diplomatic and otherwise, have been overcome one after another in the last four years since construction began. And yet the imposing granite column located on the Bund at the beginning of Avenue Edward VII between the International and French Settlements stands uncompleted. The sole reason now standing in the way of completion and dedication of this work is money—some Tls. 20,000.

The total cost of this monument, according to the original estimates, was Tls. 90,000 of which amount about Tls. 70,000 has been pledged. The Tls. 70,000 which has been pledged has come from business firms, clubs and individuals and from the International and French municipal councils the latter bodies pledging Tls. 16,800 to cover the cost of constructing the foundation. The monument aside from the sentiment which it arouses in our hearts for those who made the supreme sacrifice, will add much to the appearance of Shanghai's waterfront where beauty is needed. The foundation and column are of granite to be surmounted with a capital of bronze. On the sides are to appear the names of those residents of Shanghai who lost their lives in the Allied cause.

We do not have before us a list of those who have contributed toward this memorial classified as to nationalities and we would hesitate to publish the list if we had it, because this memorial belongs to Shanghai without regard to nationalities. It stands not only for those who gave their lives in the war but also for the fine spirit of co-operation which existed in this city throughout the war period in respect to the common good. The amount still required is so small that it should only be necessary to mention the need for it to be forthcoming.

The British Premier's Speech

IF America by its enthusiastic welcome of Mr. Lloyd George paid a tribute not only to him but to the British Empire at large, it has to be said that on the other hand he, at the farewell meeting in the Opera House New York, returned the compliment and in the short phrase of his speech, which Reuter vouchsafes to us, indicated our real position in world affairs. "The world will be better tomorrow when it knows that the interest of America in human rights is unweakened."

Of late America has had a flood of European lecturers, too many of them: in fact so many that whatever good the propaganda thus embarked upon might have done was discounted not only by its quantity but by quality also. But when the former Premier of England, the man around whom the British rallied during the war and followed with unswerving faith, comes to our shores, and from that deeper knowledge which he has of us and our policy, pays a tribute to our interest in human rights throughout the world, it is no wonder that our newspapers give him so much publicity and, apparently, sympathetic editorial comment.

Reuter seems to have fallen down in this matter by not cabling us the speech in greater detail. Americans would have liked to know more of what was said and, it is to be supposed it would not have been without interest to its British clientele throughout the world. We out here, where, specially now, Americans and British are showing considerable co-operation and community of interest find it of no little importance to know what factors are moving in the world outside to bring about that state of affairs between us, which we in Shanghai not only know to be possible, but actually put into operation.

The "New York Tribune" declares that the British Premier's speech, pleading for friendship and accord between our two nations will be heard sympathetically throughout the nation. This is as much a tribute to the eloquence of the speaker as to our readiness to see eye to eye with Great Britain as far as possible. Indeed, that we have succeeded is eminently demonstrated by the fact that Col. Harvey was recently able to leave London with the announcement that all outstanding matters between the two countries had been squared up. There is no reason why this pleasant state of affairs should not continue so long as both sides realise that neither can do all the giving or all the taking in the relationships between us.

At the same time, however, we are not prepared to endorse Mr. Lloyd George's statement that the Treaty of Versailles is not responsible for the present peril in Europe. The suggestion appears to be that its application alone is at the root of the trouble Trus this latter is the most important factor in bringing about the present unfortunate state of affairs, but it is difficult to see how any other interpretation of a document capable of as many interpretations as there are signatories to it, could ever have done much else than afford those loopholes for disagreement which have, unfortunately become too apparent. The Treaty never was a watertight document against the creation of further disputes, but it is clear that if the same spirit which dictated it in the first instance had prevailed, Europe might have been decidedly better off than it is at present. This does not dispose of the fact, however, that the fons et origo of the whole trouble lies in the document upon which a precarious peace has been based.

What is the solution? The favorable signs of the past week or so, have to a great extent been dispelled by the endeavor of the French Government to limit the scope of any Reparations Conference to which our representatives might be appointed, and if any step has been made towards the ultimate settlement of this major dispute arising out of the treaty, it is neither apparent enough nor sufficient to hold out much hope for any immediate betterment of the existing situation. There seems to be one remedy —the linking of American interest in human rights throughout the world with the policies of Great Britain so far as they are congruous with the same ideal.

Great Britain has endeavored to maintain some sort of balance between the persistent demands of the French on the one hand and the continued resistance of Germany on the other. Unfortunately the last few years have robbed Britain of the position of isolation in European affairs which made it so much a factor in the past.

The only nation capable of maintaining such a position at the present time (and it is doubtful whether Great Britain can ever disentangle herself) is our own. Our interests are in favor of peace, peace for the sake of humanity as well as for ourselves as a nation. And if it is to be secured by a continued understanding with Great Britain—heaven forbid that we should entangle ourselves in any alliance—such speeches as those of Mr. Lloyd George will go a long way forwards inculcating that spirit of friendship which would prove of inestimable benefits to the world and humanity.

Commentaries

IF any proof of the development of agricultural science in China is needed it is amply furnished by the elaborate exhibition of the South-Eastern University at the Cotton Goods Exchange on Avenue Edward the Seventh, of the work that is being done to improve cotton culture in China. There is no phase of agricultural work in which there is more general interest throughout this country than cotton improvement. The first impression gained by a visit to the halls of the Cotton Exchange, is that Chinese agriculture is emerging from its primitive and backward state. The improvement has been possible from a systematic prosecution of Western agricultural conditions and practice and a steady spread of general and agricultural education. The scientific investigation into the possibilities of improving the growing of cotton in China could be pursued in other directions as well, and it speaks volumes for the activities of the Nanking and Southeastern Universities that such a great deal could have been achieved in the space of only three years. Of course, the conservatism of the farmers and landholders is in the way of more rapid extension of the work of improvement. An appreciation of the circumstances prompts us to think that the agricultural colleges in China will eventually overcome these difficulties. They are not insurmountable. The need appears to be more for pure seed growing than a further extension of experimental work. This was emphasised, if we remember right, last year at the national convention of cotton workers in Nanking, organised at the invitation of the cotton departments of the Southeastern University and the University of Nanking.

The beginning of the agricultural policy—if it can be called a policy—have not been too ambitious, and the machinery, though imperfect in many respects, has produced results that are really astounding. The scientific side of the work could in coming years be better organised. The foundation has been laid and if the task is pursued, the next few years should witness further remarkable progress. That there is about, a revival in agricultural science, is brought home to us by a visit to the exhibition of the work performed by the Southeastern University.

Europe's Need Of Books

Whatever may be the individual views held regarding the participation of the United States in European affairs, there is one subject upon which there can be no division of opinion, when the facts are known, namely the tragic need in Europe today for books and periodicals. Indeed, aside from the fundamental stabilisation of the economic and political life of Central Europe and Russia, there is no need so pressing as the supply of these cultural resources, the current of which has been so sadly broken by the last nine years of disorganisation and isolation. It would be difficult to say, in fact, to how great an extent the supplying of these resources would not go toward the restoration of this stabilisation.

With this state of affairs in thought, the American Library Association has been for some time collecting books for the libraries of Central and Eastern Europe, which for some years have been unable to buy American publications because of the rate of exchange. All the large reference libraries and universities are suffering greatly from the want of these books and periodicals. Any good books about the United States or by leading American authors, and of comparatively recent date, are acceptable, and many of the public libraries of America are arranging to accept deliveries. These may also be shipped, freight or parcel post prepaid, to the Bureau of International Exchanges, Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C., which will itself provide the transportation to Europe.

Strange as it may seem, post-war conditions have been far more effective in cutting off supplies of learned periodicals and books than were the conditions of wartime. During those years of stress supplies did come through to Vienna, to Budapest, Prague, and Warsaw. But today exchange conditions have rendered it literally impossible to keep subscriptions up, as a single one will cost, perhaps, an entire year's salary.

As it happens, also and most unfortunately, this very period is the one in which there is the greatest need of stimulus from those nations which have been able to maintain a relatively unbroken record of scholastic and intellectual endeavor. The cost of paper in the unfortunate countries has been so high that their own journals have been discontinued. In addition, there has been the disorganisation incident to forced language changes over wide areas and in many great institutions. Hence, it is now particularly that these countries need to be supplied with contacts with the forward-flowing stream of western scholarship and thought.

HAPPY CHILDOOD

Is Largely A Matter of Health. Let Baby's Own Tablets Keep Your Children Well.

Little children very quickly get 'out-of-sorts.' By prompt treatment they can usually quickly be set right again. Most of their troubles arise in the first place from the stomach or bowels; that is why a good 'cleaning-out' is the first thing prescribed by the doctor. Formerly Caster Oil was the means used to bring about this; now-a-days Baby's Own Tablets do just the same work, but without trouble to the parent or discomfort to the little patient. Children take Baby's Own Tablets happily because there is no nasty taste, and no griping after-pains follow their use.

As a specific for infantile indigestion, vomiting, constipation, colic, diarrhoea, simple fever, croup, colds, teething pains and worms there is nothing to equal Baby's Own Tablets. Chemists sell them, or post free, 60 cents the vial, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai.

Hall's Distemper has led the way to a new era in house decoration—the era of brighter, cleaner and healthier homes.

It is the most durable of all decorations, lasting for years with freshness unimpaired, whereas wall-papers deteriorate from the first day by fading and accumulating dust and dirt.

Hall's Distemper is a thorough disinfectant, and is applied directly upon the wall, forming a hard surface, from which dust and dirt may be "spring-cleaned" by lightly sponging with warm water.

WHAT IS LOVE?

IS the answer the same through the ages, or—DOES Love vary with each generation?

IS Love now, after such a climactic event as the World War, different from the love of the days of our fathers and mothers?

CHINA PRESS readers have sent in the following answers to the universal question of "What Is Love?" Other readers of the recents series are invited to give their solution of the riddle of the ages.

"You ask 'What is Love.' How foolish. Haven't you ever read John Heywood's remark: "No man ought to looke a gift horse in the mouth."

A. K. C.

In response to your article on "What is Love?," I would like to tell you my opinion about "Love."

My definition for "love" is: A mental emotional affection disposed in the heart of every human being, which tends to draw the attraction of other's affection.

Yours truly,

E. Q. L.

Fuh Tan University.

Accepting your invitation to contribute views upon the theme "What is Love?" I beg to propose the following interpretation:

"Love is a gift of the Allmighty to men."

Stefan L. Skowronski,
Shanghai Waterworks Co.

Dear Sir,

What is Love, indeed?

That puzzles me, bewilders me, confuses me! I am tortured by it. It's an anguish to me. It tantalises me; it vexes me; it almost drives me mad.

Is it really what is called Love?

I have no authority to discuss about, nay, even any opinion of Love: consequently no view of mine is yet definitely formed upon Love. I will just try to avail myself of this rare opportunity to ask you as well as your readers whether this is a phase of true Love or simply a demonstration (or rather an instance) of an animal passion.

I love a certain lady who belongs to a sphere much higher than that in which I live. My first chance of being acquainted with her was given me when I was engaged by her as her music instructor, for I am a born violinist. I am a young bachelor, much younger than she is who has been married these eight years and is living peacefully with her husband.

Our mutual love (for my love is not unreturned by her and that as warm and sincere as I am) is the result of a continuous contact with her for a period of some eighteen months at music lessons. It gradually developed and deepened, almost without our being conscious of it, until at last it broke out one evening at the close of our daily lessons, at the height of the uncontrollable intensity of our reciprocal affection, in the form of a passionate kiss which was witnessed by her husband who returned home quite unexpectedly. It has proved a fatal kiss and we are now separated, perhaps forever, at least in body.

They are reconciled now; she is forgiven by her generous husband on condition that she shall never permit me to approach her again. She is going to abide by her husband's "forbidden law."

I would have killed myself more in sorrow for her than in despair of my hopeless love had she not contrived, in a secret letter, to communicate to me her pardon as well as her everlasting love in spite of our unhappy lot. She also advises me through her letters (secret to her husband) that as she is now happy with her husband as if nothing had happened, whom she declares she has never ceased to love, I must try not to forget her but to make my life hopeful in a happy marriage.

Whatever she tells me to do I must follow her, for not only she has given me a noble inspiration through her sincere love of me but also she has rescued me from a would-be self-destruction and its consequent infamy. But this I cannot do, through I tried my best. I am perhaps too young yet to philosophise over love and distinguish between a blind passion and a supreme genuine love. I would rather glady die at her bidding even this very moment!!

To doubt her sincerity is something amounting to blasphemy. My belief in her is absolute and almost divine!

I am going neither to pretend to understand Love nor to try to express my views upon it as I said at the beginning of my letter. I write this letter simply to furnish your readers with an actual instance of what seems to me a kind of Love.

Is this an animal passion of the present age or a romantic love so much dwelt on in novels? And what of her love?

Yours etc.

LONDON
By H. L. Mencken

There are more valets in London than there are trousers.

London gets the better-grade American traveler. Paris gets the rest.

England is a democracy in perfectly fitting evening clothes.

London is the bachelor capital of the world.

AIN'T CHINA FUNNY?
(To an American firm in Shanghai)

Dear Sir:

I am very obliged to you, will you employ me? I am graduated from Ningpo Technical School Engineering course. I am 21 years old. I have been learned technical knowledge four years and engaged in the C.I.T. Works in Drawing Office one year.

Hoping that you will be willing to accept my service, I shall anxiously await your reply.

Yours respectfully,

A masked gang of robbers in Belgium stripped a visiting American banker of his clothes and gave him a suit of their's. A dose of his own medicine as 'twere, for fair exchange is no robbery.

CAPTIVE

You watch, you wait,
Yet never see
The laughing, elfin
Soul of me!

All impudent
It slips your bars
And finds a pathway
In the stars.

What satisfaction
Do you find
Who want the moon
And catch the wind?

I sell myself
To you, but I
Hold something
That you cannot buy!

So like a bird
I take the air—
You reach for me,
I am not there.

Poor blunderer,
You hold me fast,
Yet I am never
Yours at last!

ABIGAIL CRESSON.

We reflect with joy in our hearts that no monument has even been erected to the man who invented codliver oil.

In bed we laugh, in bed we cry;
And born in bed, in bed we lie
It's doggone little a bed don't know
Of human bliss and human woe.

EXTRACT FROM EXPERT REPORT:

"Having visited most of the cement factories of Great Britain, America and Europe, I am in a position to form an opinion of the relative merits and faults of each.....but my experiences lead me to the conclusion that 'pride of place' must unquestionably be given to the Holderbank Factory in Switzerland.....In design and construction it is a model without rival in any country." W. H. Brown, A. M. I. Mech. E., leading authority in England on cement manufacturing.

The Wisdom of the ancient Sage and the technical experiences of a modern authority on cement manufacturing have guided us to instal a set of machinery in our Lungwha Works which is an exact model of the one used by the Holderbank factory, Switzerland, and supplied by the original patentees with numerous latest improvements. The cement we are now supplying our customers is the product of that "perfect instrument."

Poincare Gives Views On Proposed Inquiry

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Nov. 4.—Speaking at the unveiling of a war memorial at Brive today, M. Poincare showed by facts that the attitude of Germany touching reparations was only a succession of refinements of bad faith. He denounced the enormous sums which the Reich had swallowed up to maintain impudent propaganda. He recalled that the Reparations Commission's figures showed that up to June 30 last Germany had paid the Allies in cash or in kind a total of (? 8,849,913,000 marks), out of which France had received exactly 244,000,000 gold marks. The Reich, M. Poincare added, was ruining itself at pleasure, but was allowing individuals, especially the big industrialists, to enrich themselves without making any serious effort to obtain from them a just contribution for national recovery. Yet it was after this voluntary bankruptcy that the idea was conceived in several quarters of inviting France to agree to the revision of the German debt as if it had not been definitely fixed by the application of the Treaty and as if it depended constitutionally on the French Government to rearrange the diplomatic convention accepted by the two Chambers. France then had to take precautions that no attempt should be made to despoil her of her pledges before the payment of the total and that in the enquiry of the Reparations Commission into the capacity for payment of Germany the determination of the debt could not be gone back on by indirect means. France has insisted on dissipating in advance all ambiguity even in the interest of relations with her Allies and associates. France gave them hearty proof of friendship in accepting in principle this expert enquiry, but she naturally decided to keep herself before, during and after the work of the experts within the four sides of the Treaty. Even in estimating the present capacity for payment, it was to be hoped that the experts would carefully seek for realities under the rags and misery with which the Reich was trying to cover itself. It was obvious that before making regular payments, Germany would have to reform her finances, reestablish a healthy currency and put herself into a position to contract a foreign loan.

Referring to the development of foreign commerce, shown particularly by the maritime statistics, M. Poincare said that it was the hour which Germany had chosen to attempt to attract to herself the commiseration of the world. "Let us reserve our sympathy for the unhappy French families, who suffered through the war. No more than we can renounce reparations can we renounce our security. The Treaty has made the time of occupation of the Rhine much less than the period necessary for the extinction of the debt. In return for a reduction we were promised guarantee pacts. Nothing up to the present has replaced these still-born pacts. Whatever action German populations may take tomorrow for their political organisation, we shall take care to render for ever impossible any new aggression." M. Poincare repeated that "France has never thought and never will think of appropriating territories directly or indirectly, and intends fully to respect the liberty of the inhabitants. She does not understand and considers contrary to the rights of peoples the argument that if certain groups of the population proclaimed their independence, it would have fatal results for the Treaty of Versailles. We have never promised to protect the German Constitution against Germans nor even the unity of the Reich or the initiative of the German State in any way."

In conclusion M. Poincare said that it was from the memory of France's heroes that the French would continue to draw their strength and certainty of success.

The Premier declared that it would be useless to explain the Government's internal program which was already known from the speeches in the Chamber. He confined himself to outlining the program of work, legislation, completion of the Budget, and urgent military and social laws. Internal policy was entirely subordinated to foreign policy. The Treaty had left in suspense numbers of delicate questions of German bad faith. Far from bringing the Allies together, common action had caused hesitations and waverings. France would have to redouble her efforts to come to cordial agreement with her friends and to reduce the number of her enemies. "We are sure to bring about the triumph of right which we have on our side. This long task requires the co-operation of all good Frenchmen."

Cotton Culture

Development Plans Progress Made Research Work

CONSIDERABLE headway is being made in China with the scheme of cotton development as originally drafted by the Chinese and foreign cotton millowners' associations. The groundwork of the whole policy has been the provision of agricultural experts with a farm in each important tract for the special work that must be done as a foundation for all other research work and the extension of research by specialists. Fortunately in the scheme the agricultural college did not become the central figure but was merely subsidiary to research. Thus the University of Nanking and the Southeastern University have in the course of three years become centers of research for cotton improvements, practically everything being subordinated to this fetish.

Marked success has already been achieved by both these institutions, and it is impossible to describe in any detail the purely scientific work which has been done by the officers of the two universities in the cause. Much of this work has already found its application in improvements introduced. The institution of cotton development departments in these two universities is hailed by the textile industry in China as the harbinger of a new era. The development and improvement of cotton cultivation in this country depend upon the multiplication of experimental stations.

In China the officers of the College of Agriculture and Forestry in Nanking and of the Southeastern University must take the place both of the intelligent landlord of Europe and of the seedsman. All the experimental work must be done and its results offered for application in a cheap and simple way. The Chinese cultivator is not concerned with the process of discovery. The concrete results of chemical, botanical and bacteriological research must be presented to him in a form which he can readily apply. The Chinese cultivator wants none of the reasons for it or the process by which it is arrived at. It is obvious that if results of practical value are to be obtained the agricultural worker in China must have a thorough knowledge of Chinese agriculture and a systematic feeling towards the people. Above all, he must go slow.

The problem of the improvement of Chinese cotton falls under two heads: first, the selection of the best pure types from existing varieties, maintenance of these types and increase of the yield by better cultivation; second, the introduction of exotics of the production of hybrids. In his report on the three years' cotton improvement work, Mr. John B. Griffing, head of the Department of Cotton Improvement at the University of Nanking, explains at length the difficulties involved in the work of acclimatising American cotton in China.

But whether the problem is the replacement of a mixed crop by a selected indigenous type or the introduction of exotics many difficulties have to be overcome. The variety must be fixed so as to breed true from seed. Large quantities of seed must be available so as entirely to replace the old variety. Taking everything into consideration, it would seem that both the Nanking University and the Southeastern University are working on right lines in attempting to bring the indigenous crop to its fullest possible perfection.

This was brought home to those who paid a visit to the exhibition of the cotton improvement work of the Southeastern University held last Sunday in Shanghai. In the short period of three years there has been developed a very efficient organisation which is rendering the cotton industry yeoman services, making a specialty of improved seed supply. In view of the complexity of the subject the greatest credit is due to the small band of workers that results of great practical value have already been obtained. A great amount of spade work has been done, and a good impression of what has so far been achieved and what is being attempted could best have been obtained by a visit to the halls of the Cotton Exchange where the cotton department of the university had on display a long range of exhibits showing the task that confronts such work and the scientific manner in which it is being tackled. The progress of the past three years has been more than merely

LONDON PAYS LAST TRIBUTE TO BONAR LAW

Large Crowds Testify To Respect For Former Premier

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 5.—Large crowds testified to public sympathy at Mr. Bonar Law's funeral today. A short service was first held at St. Columba's Church of Scotland, of which Mr. Law was a member. The coffin was then placed on a catafalque at the head of the Church, covered with a Union Jack. There were numerous wreaths, the senders including the Members of the Cabinet, the French Government, the Dominion Premiers and Mr. Lloyd George. The cortege then motored to Westminster Abbey and the pall bearers, the Prince of Wales, Mr. Stanley Baldwin, the Earl of Balfour, Mr. Austen Chamberlain, the Speaker, Mr. Asquith, Lord Carson, Lord Beaverbrook, Viscount Fitzalan and Mr. Ramsay Macdonald, escorted the coffin on the last part of the route. A distinguished assembly at the Abbey included the overseas Premiers. The coffin, covered with a gold embroidered pall, was carried to the steps of the altar in solemn procession, the choir chanting the burial service. They then sang the hymn "The strife is o'er," after which the coffin was carried in procession to the grave, the site of which was covered with a purple carpet striped with white. The beautiful copper urn containing the ashes was then removed from the coffin and lowered in to the grave with the words "Ashes to ashes, dust to dust." Kipling's Recessional and Chopin's Funeral March concluded the service.

Champions Race On Card For Today; Stitt Pony, Cock o' th' North, Favorite

Big Crowd Sees Good Second Day Card, Despite Murky Weather; Old Bill Not Yet Qualified, But Still Has Chance

By Westa

Overcast and leaky skies failed to dampen interest in the second day's program of the Shanghai Race Club's autumn meeting. A crowd fully as large as the opening day turnout was on hand; all eager to get a further line on the probables for today's big event, the Champions, and all surprised over the failure of the redoubtable Old Bill to qualify.

Yesterday's racing was distinguished by the success achieved by the Stitt and Stephen ponies, and by the continuation of Cock o' th' North's earlier successes, a performance that will very likely send him to the post favorite in the big event this afternoon. The Stitt pony won the big event on yesterday's card, the Chinese Cup and Shanghai Stakes, from one of the classiest fields of the day, and won it in a manner that stamped him as the contender that the others will very likely have to beat if they hope to capture the Champions.

The other Stitt and Stephen winners yesterday were Coq Gaulois, in the opening event on the day's card, and Kupi, in the Rubicon Plate race, the latter finishing in a dead heat with the Day pony Woodland.

Old Bill made a gallant effort to get into the select class in the ninth race, the Siccawei Plate. He maintained a good position all the way to the stretch, where the White pony, White Knight, began to draw away. Old Bill made a fine effort to hang on but the pace was too swift and he had to be content with second place. White Knight's showing in this race was the best he has made, and led many supporters to believe that he will be among the serious contenders in the Champions.

OLD BILL TO TRY AGAIN

Old Bill still has a chance to get into the big race, as he is entered in the second race on today's card, the Flyaway Plate, at seven furlongs. This ought not to tire him greatly, and his many admirers and backers are pulling hard for him to come through.

The form sharps had an inning yesterday, and with one exception had little difficulty in picking winners. The exception was Woodcroft, in the seventh race, who beat out Young Bill, the favorite, by a good two lengths, thereby giving his backers a glad surprise in the shape of a $110 dividend.

There were but six starters in the big race of the day, the Chinese Cup and Shanghai Stakes, and of these the Stitt pony Cock o' th' North, by the favorite, Old Bill, was a second choice with the bettors and Columbia third. Social Union was also in this race but did not have many supporters. The latter got away to a poor start and was soon so far in the ruck that it took all he had to get back with the bunch. Old Bill set the pace down the back stretch and as they rounded the turn the Stitt entry went into the lead. Down the stretch it was a nip and tuck scramble between Cock o' th' North, Old Bill and Columbia, with the first named pulling ahead in the final jumps. He won over Old Bill by a good length.

CHAMPIONS TODAY

The big race on today's card—The Champions—is eighth on the program and so far seventeen ponies have qualified, with others sure to come through today. Shenkoland, one of the early favorites, did not show so well yesterday, but will almost certainly be a serious contender this afternoon.

The rainfall of last evening softened the track further, and

AMBASSADOR HERRICK IS UNDER FIRE FOR SPEECH

U. S. Envoy To France Faces Recall, Report

TOO PRO-FRENCH

Address Embarrasses Government At Washington

(BY UNITED PRESS)

Washington, Nov. 5.—Myron T. Herrick, American ambassador to France, is likely to receive a reprimand and will possibly be recalled on account of expressions which he used yesterday in a speech in Champagne, which are regarded here as extremely pro-French and embarrassing to the American government.

Ambassador Herrick's address, coming at a time when the efforts of the Allies are directed toward arranging a conference with a view to solving the problem of German reparations, is held by officials here to be in extremely bad taste, and may have an adverse effect on the proposed conference.

The address in question was made by the American ambassador at the laying of the corner-stone of a Franco-American monument. Among other things, he declared that the United States was desirous of intervening in Europe to restore the economic balance of the world as it had been from to act from a military point of view in 1917.

Ambassador Herrick, formerly a leading Ohio attorney, is serving his second period as American ambassador to France. He was first appointed by former President Taft in 1912 and served until December, 1913. Following the [illegible] of President Harding, he was appointed to the same post in April, 1921, and has served continuously since then.

Paris, Nov. 5.—Laying the first stone of the Franco-American monument at Fermie-Naval, Mr. Myron Herrick, the United States Ambassador, declared that the United States was as desirous to intervene to "restore the balance of the world" from the economic point of view as it had been in 1917 from the military point of view. How, asks the Intransigeant, can the balance be restored if France has to repair her ruins at her own expense, protect her security against a Germany which is hatching one knows not what designs, and at the same time bear the burden of an external debt of Internal Disputes Replacing Campaign Against Governor

(Exclusive China Press)

Manila, Nov. 5.—Internal political squabbles are largely replacing the movement directed against Governor-General Leonard Wood.

The Nationalists have openly threatened to leave the Coalition unless a nationalist is selected speaker of the house to succeed Speaker Roxas, who is booked to sail for the United States this month. The Nationalists claim that the Collectivistas, under Manuel Quezon, are planning to dominate the legislature.

Quezon, Roxas and Osmena are unable to agree which one of them should go to the United States to carry on the independence campaign, and it is possible now that none will go.

Looting Of Bakeries Follows Advance In Cost Of Bread

(Exclusive China Press)

Berlin, Nov. 5.—Excitement amongst the population of Berlin consequent upon the increasing cost of the necessities of life is constantly growing.

When bakers throughout the city today demanded 140,000,000,000 marks for a one-pound of bread, the people commenced to pillage the shops. Police were called out immediately and arrested some of the ringleaders in the movement, adopting a resolute stand and thereby retaining control of the situation.

The government today seized stocks of flour throughout the city and will ration them out to bakers who will be forced to sell their bread at a price [illegible] stipulated by the government. [illegible] newspapers report concerning concentration of large nationalistic forces on the Bavarian-Thuringian border, which, it was rumored, were about to advance on Berlin, have proved to be greatly exaggerated. The situation so far is giving no cause for alarm, since most of the followers of the nationalists are undrilled, poorly armed and unorganised youths, who, unemployed, are hoping to force the government to grant them some sort of a pension.

Appeal To Nation Is Made By Ebert

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Nov. 5.—"This is a very serious time and Germany is threatened with internal convulsions" runs an appeal to the nation signed by President Ebert. He declares that sections of the community are profiting by the distress of the people to threaten to throw the torch of internecine warfare among the people. He urges the maintenance of the unity of the Reich and the upholding of law and order. The President in conclusion declares that the Reichswehr and police will do their duty.

Reuter's Berlin Correspondent confirms the report of the Separatist occupation of the Town Hall and Law Courts at Kaiserlautern.

Washington Officials Not Optimistic On Prospects

(BY UNITED PRESS)

Washington, Nov. 5.—Ambassador Jusserand of France, who just returned to the United States from Paris, today visited Secretary of State Hughes and explained in detail the French viewpoint regarding the proposed inter-allied conference on the matter of German reparations.

Officials here are still hopeful that it may be found possible to undertake the inquiry, but they are not over-optimistic that France will withdraw the stringent restrictions which it is seeking to impose.

There has been no additional word from the White House as to President Coolidge's leanings in the matter, beyond what has already been said that the United States would be happy to take part in such an inquiry as suggested by England provided that all of the Allies were agreed on the matter and no undue limitations were placed on those making the investigation.

(Exclusive China Press)

London, Nov. 5.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from its correspondent at Antwerp says that it is learned from authoritative sources there that Belgium has now definitely decided to cooperate with France no longer in the matter of German reparations but will stand with Great Britain and Italy.

Paris, Nov. 5.—The speeches made by the Premier at Brive and Tulle yesterday have been received with satisfaction by most of the newspapers, which consider that in his second speech M. ELEVEN MILES OF CABLE STOLEN FROM FIRM HERE

Police Bag Thieves And Four Get One-Year Terms

Theft of 11 ¾ miles of electric cable from the yards of Messrs. Trollope and Colls, 74 Yangtszepoo Road, brought sentences of one year's imprisonment to four men—one of them a police watchman employed at the yards—at the Court yesterday.

The consignment of cable, valued at $2,090, was removed from the yards through the connivance of the watchman and was disposed of to a second hand dealer on Kwangse Road.

Detective Sergeant Douglas, in charge of the case, succeeded in locating three hawkers from whom he obtained statements implicating three of the company's watchmen and all were arrested. It was found however that the second hand dealer had absconded and the cable could not be located. Then the police received an anonymous communication that the stolen property would be found on the Canton Road jetty. A number of boxes were found at this spot, containing nearly ten miles of the cable.

The statements made by the hawkers and the evidence brought by the police were sufficient to convict the hawkers and one watchman, who were sentenced to a year each, the other two watchmen, however, being discharged.

OPPOSE PLANS FOR NEW SITE FOR UNIVERSITY

Tokio Officials Throw Cold Water On Proposals Of Students

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Oct. 24.—The educational authorities have thrown cold water on the plan proposed by the faculty and students for establishing a university center at some place outside the city limits.

The principal reason for their lack of enthusiasm in the scheme is the need for economy, when the Government is necessarily pledged to a considerable amount for the reconstruction of those schools that have been totally destroyed. It is unreasonable, they are reported to have said, to add to the reconstruction bill the cost of an entirely new university center.

In addition to the foregoing reason, the authorities point out the hardship that the removal of the University would inflict on the merchants who have established themselves round the present site, and who depend largely on the patronage of the University for their livelihood; also the restrictions in the matter of scientific research likely to be placed on the university scholars; and lastly the difficulties of supplying suitable living accommodation for the students themselves.

The official objections to the university plan will be submitted to a faculty meeting to be held shortly, when the final attitude of the university will be determined.

UNION CHURCH GUILD LECTURE IS THIS EVENING

Rev. Proctor To Tell Of Trans-Siberian Trip

The first lecture of the Autumn program of the Union Church Literary and Social Guild is to be given in the Union Church Lecture Hall this evening at 8:45 o'clock. The Rev. J. T. Proctor, D. D., will tell of his recent trip across the Trans-Siberian Railway. Dr. Proctor attended the meeting of the Baptist World Alliance in Stockholm last summer and made his return to China across Russia and Siberia. He has much to tell that will be of general interest to those who have made this trip in days before the war, and also to those who are hoping to be able to use the Trans-Siberian Railway again in the near future. The delay in fulfilling passport formalities gave him an opportunity to see conditions in northern Europe at first hand.

Membership tickets for the season can be obtained from the Treasurer at the door this evening at $1. Intending members are urged to secure tickets promptly as there will be a charge for admission to non-members at some of the later programs.

The lecture immediately following tonight's will be given next week Wednesday, the 14th, when the Rev. J. C. Keyte, M. A., of Peking, will speak on "Things Seen in Egypt" with lantern slide illustrations.

TROOPS MOVING FROM HSUCHOW TO FIGHT BANDITS

Hsuchow Magistrate Is Abruptly Dismissed

(Independent News Service)

Hsuchow, Honan, Nov. 1.—There has been a considerable movement of troops from Hsuchow towards the west with the avowed purpose of doing battle with the hordes of robbers now concentrated in their strongholds west of Kiahsien. It was rumored a few days ago that the military governor, Chang Fu-lai, was about to honor our city with his presence and that he intended to take the field with his troops, but so far he has not put in his appearance.

The ex-bandit troops under Lao Yang-jen that mutinied some what over a week ago have passed on westward, and in the neighborhood of Kiahsien have come into conflict with the local defence troops, the so called "Red Spear Society," heavy losses being suffered on both sides. It is reported, however, that the robbers have been getting the worst of it owning to depleted stocks of ammunition.

TROUBLE WITH MAGISTRATE

Another proof of the vicissitudes of official life in China was given us yesterday when a number of well dressed visitors arrived by rickshaw at the local yamen and demanded to see the hsien magistrate. He begged leave to inquire what might be their official business and he would consider the matter of giving them audience. Immediately they produced papers to the effect that they had been sent by the head office at Kaifeng to take over the official business of the local yamen and that the present incumbent of the position could consider himself relieved from further responsibility in the management of its affairs. Up to the present it has not been divulged what might have been the reason for his abrupt dismissal.

Banque Industrielle de Chine

NOTICE TO THE CREDITORS

I have the honour to inform you that the Tribunal de Commerce de la Seine has homologated by judgment rendered on the 28th September, 1923, the proposed scheme of compromise (Reglement Transactionnel) of the Banque Industrielle de Chine.

Summary terms: as a result of this settlement, creditors will receive for the full amount of their credits, Distribution Bonds, (Bons de Repartition.) Those bonds will bear no interest, and will be redeemable in 25 years, redemption on same to take place as and when the available funds of the Banque Industrielle de Chine be sufficient to allow a payment of not less than 5 percent.

These funds arise from the realisation of the assets of the Banque Industrielle de Chine, from the 4 percent interest paid by the Societe Francaise de Gerance de la Banque Industrielle de Chine on the working capital of Francs 50,000,000 put at its disposal and from the participation of 95 percent in the profits of the Societe Francaise de Gerance de la Banque Industrielle de Chine.

The credits in foreign currencies will be converted into French Francs at the rates quoted for these currencies on the 26th July, 1921.

The Distribution Bonds (bons de repartition) delivered to the Far East Creditors can be exchanged against G. 7. Bonds secured by the Balance of the Boxer's Indemnity.

The Far East creditors admitted to this exchange under the control of the French administrative authority and French diplomatic and consular representatives are defined as follows:

For the application of this arrangement it is understood:

1) That the Far East comprises all countries situated in Asia to the East of the Colombo Meridian and inclusive of the Dutch Indies.

2) That the designation of Far East Creditors shall apply to the following categories:

A.—Persons, Companies or Associations belonging to one of the Far East States.

B.—Creditors (persons or Corporate Bodies, Companies or Association) in pursuance of:

a. Transactions carried out with one or other of the Branches of the Banque Industrielle de Chine in the Far East.

b. Sums deposited with one of these Branches.

c. Claim vouchers (Drafts, bills, cheques, letters of Credit), etc., due by the Banque Industrielle de Chine and payable at one or other of the said Branches or for which one of the said Branches may be responsible.

C. Persons, Companies or Associations established in the Far East or who are represented by Agents, Branches or offices, in respect of Far East Transactions carried out with a Branch of the Banque Industrielle de Chine situated in any Country whatsoever. Companies or associations having their Head Office outside the limits of the Far East, but all of whose activities or operating centers are situated therein.

D. Persons not coming under the category A but having their customary domicile in the Far East and who have become creditors of any Branch whatsoever of the Banque Industrielle de Chine.

In order to decide who are Far East Creditors the interested parties should submit proof that they came under one or other of the categories above mentioned on 26th July, 1921.

The Far East Creditors shall submit within two months from the date of the homologation of this Scheme their request to exchange Distribution Bonds against 5 percent Gold Bonds.

This request may be addressed by Creditors domiciled in Europe or the United States to the Commissaire au Reglement Transactionnel; and by all other Creditors to any of the Agencies of the Banque Industrielle de Chine.

In the event of the status of a Far East Creditor being open to dispute, the matter shall be settled:—

1. In respect of Creditors domiciled in Europe, by the Tribunal de Commerce de la Seine.

2. In respect of those established in Indo-Chine, as follows:

Within the jurisdiction of the Appeal Court of Saigon, by the Tribunal de Commerce de Saigon.

Within the jurisdiction of the Tribunal de Commerce de Haiphong, by the Tribunal de Haiphong, and.

In the remainder of the jurisdiction of the Hanoi Court of Appeal by the Tribunal de Commerce d'Hanoi.

For creditors established in any other country, by the French Consular Authorities.

In the event of the requests exceeding the amount of the available securities as fixed by the Agreements, proportionate reductions will be made.

The bonds will be in Gold U. S. Dollars, they will carry interest commencing from January 15, 1923, and will have half-yearly interest coupons attached. The Bonds will be redeemable annually either by drawings or by purchase over a period of 23 years, corresponding to the service of the Boxer Indemnity. They will be in denominations of at least 50 U. S. Dollars. Fractional balances arising from the exchange may be grouped to form a complete Bond, and Fractional Certificates will be delivered in respect of balances which cannot be so grouped.

The exchange will be carried out on the basis of the quotations in Paris for the U.S. Dollar (Francs 12.925), on the date (26th July, 1921,) at which the Far East claims were converted into Francs.

In accordance with the Diplomatic agreements of the 9th and 27th July, 1922, the G. 5. Bonds exchanged against the Distribution Bonds delivered to the small creditors of the Far East and to the holders of the Bank notes of the Banque Industrielle de Chine, will be met in cash and at par by the Societe Francaise de Gerance de Banque Industrielle de Chine.

It is furthermore provided in § 12 and 13 that a special treatment might be granted to the creditors placed under legislation other than the French.

Mr. Benoist, 48 Rue Monsieur le Prince, Paris, has been appointed as Commissioner in charge to carry on above indicated settlement (Reglement Transactionne.)

Attitude Of Parliament To Sun Pao-chi Chief Topic At Capital

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 3.—The attitude of Parliament towards the nomination of Mr. Sun Pao-chi as Premier seems to be the chief topic of interest among Chinese at the Capital. It is reported today that Mr. Loo Chi-han, Member of the House of Representatives, has suggested to Mr. Sun that the latter should invite the Members to a tea party and explain his intended policy prior to the day on which a vote on his nomination will be taken in the House. Mr. Loo, it appears, is the leader of a group favorable to Mr. Sun's appointment. On the other hand another group has approached President Tsao Kun with the object of having Mr. Sun's nomination withdrawn. It is reported that the President would not listen to this suggestion.

While nothing official has been made known regarding the matter various unofficial reports indicate that attempts are being made by friends of President Tsao to win over Marshal Tuan to the side of the Chihli Party. One report says that General Chang Hun-chi Chief of the General Staff, has gone to Tientsin to interview Marshal Tuan who turned a deaf ear to other messengers.

New Victory Won By Chao Heng-ti

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 6.—It is reported from Changsha that in the up-river region General Chao Heng-ti's forces have met with further success, occupying Siantan. General Tan Yen-kai is concentrating his troops farther up-river at Hengshan. In the down-river region General Chao's men are also gaining ground. While the Wuchang reinforcements mainly contributed to General Chao's successes, it appears that General Shen Hung-ying had arrived at Hunan and General Tan Yen-kai counted on his assistance, but General Shen went over to General Chao's side, throwing General Tan's plans into disorder.

The Mixed Court was congested yesterday by the advent of 67 men charged with operating and participating in a gambling venture at 2744 East Seward Road Monday evening. The proprietor of the place, a tea shop, protested that it was only a legitimate money loan club having its regular monthly drawing and the Court dismissed the charge for lack of evidence, at the same time expressing doubt that the drawing was a bona fide loan scheme.

Paris, Nov. 5.—The Greek press gives great prominence to the statements made by the French representative at Athens. The point of the Salvation Army forces of well-known, France has always given proof of her intention not to intervene in the internal affairs of Greece and desires the restoration of order and prosperity in that country.

On The Rails

Stitt and Stephen qualified three ponies—Coq Gaulois, Cock o' Th North and Kupi on the first day and all three repeated with wins yesterday.

Billy Hill, the premier jockey on the Shanghai course, won three out of the four races on the card yesterday morning. Of course, Billy has practically his own choice of mounts.

* * *

Mr. S. Daly piloted the winner in the first Champions Sweepstakes ever run in Shanghai in the Spring of 1874.

Mr. C. R. Burkill and Mr. Frank Dallas hold the record for piloting Champion's winners to victory. Mr. Burkill and Mr. Dallas have both rode home winners in the big race 11 times. In addition Mr. Dallas has finished second 7 times and third 4 times. Mr. Burkill has finished second 4 times and third 7 times. And Burkill is still riding.

Riding seems to be a born accomplishment in the Burkill and Dallas families. Mr. A. W. Burkill finished third in four Champions and Mr. A. N. Dallas, son of the veteran rider, finished second in 1922's Autumn meet and third in the Spring.

Messrs. A. B. and J. Rosenfeld are so tickled over San Leandro copping two seconds in this meet that they don't care about what cotton's going to do.

In addition to the Burkills and Dallas' several other riders have won more than one Champions. Mr. H. C. Hutchings, according to the old records, has won 6 times, and Mr. R. F. Stewart, who is still riding has won 6 times. Mr. Eric Moller, Mr. M. C. Nickels, and Mr. F. A. Camming each won 5 and Mr. Frank Vida 3 and Mr. W. Hill 4 times.

* * *

Billy Hill's record is quite likely to be bettered today. If Cock o' Th North should win today it will be Hill's fifth victory. In addition he has ridden two second's and two third's.

* * *

Mr. J. K. Brand rode the last winner and Mr. S. B. M. Bremner was second and Mr. W. Hill, third. All three will be riding again today.

The fastest time ever made on the Shanghai course over the Champion's distance—1 ¼ miles—was made by Mr. Ezra's grey Rosewood, ridden by Billy Hill, in 1919. The time was 2:32 2/5.

The last record to be broken on the Shanghai course was in 1922 when Mr. Sleap rode Henry VIII nine furlongs in 2:20, and Mr. Harper rode Seafield 7 furlongs over the hurdles in 1:55 3/5.

The Jane stable's Sunny Jim was the only pony, outside of the Stitt & Stephen entries, that repeated with a victory yesterday after qualifying on the first day.

material. A mutual understanding and friendship has grown up between the officers of this departmental work and the cultivators. Agricultural development cannot be fostered by compulsion or force. The adoption of the methods recommended is entirely optional and the cultivator recognises that he need not take them up unless he wants to. He certainly will not do so unless he is convinced that they are better than his own. The days of suspicion and mistrust are however gradually passing away and with the cordial and increasing cooperation of the cultivator an era of real progress has begun.

Great Boxing Program At New Carlton Friday; Hansen Is After Johnson

Matty Smith Challenges Eddie For Heavyweight Battle; Tingle To Meet Garcia In Main Event Friday Evening

By Westa

Notwithstanding the fact that sports interest this week centers in races, the knuckle artists are not entirely in the background; as evidenced by the fact that one good card has been arranged while several others are stewing.

The program already fixed will be staged at the New Carlton Cafe Friday night, the main feature of which will be a contest between Billy Tingle and Lenardo Garcia, the fast Filipino who has shown so well in his bouts here. This bout will be the headliner on what looks like a very fine card, including bouts between De Dios and Tigora, and a title scrap for the welterweight title of China between Favacho and Eddie Smith.

These are sure to be fast battles that ought to please the Carlton patrons immensely.

Of further interest to boxing fans comes the announcement of Captain Matty Smith, manager for Knute Hansen, the heavyweight, that he is willing to take on Eddie Johnson, the big boy who recently defeated Al Belknap at the Stadium. Matty and Knute dropped into THE CHINA PRESS office last night and before leaving Matty issued a formal challenge to the big battler from Oregon. Matty's defy follows:

With reference to a match between Knute Hansen and Eddie Johnson, I wish to state that Knute is willing to take on Eddie Johnson any time, any place, and for any number of rounds that Johnson desires. Hansen is willing to divide the purse in any way desired, preferably on a 75—25 share. Hansen's only stipulation is that the rounds shall be of three minutes' duration.

(Signed) Matty K. Smith.

That puts it up to Johnson and the promoters, particularly the promoters, as Johnson has repeatedly declared his willingness to meet Hansen. The first promoter to cinch this scrap ought to clean up, both for himself and the battlers, as the public here has long been anxious to see Hansen in action. Until now there has been a complete absence of suitable opposition, but in Johnson Knute will find a man who ought to give him a battle. Eddie is an ex-Oregon lumberjack, six feet tall and built in proportion, and tough as nails. In his scrap with Belknap he disposed of the big sailor in short order, and displayed enough style to warrant a match with Hansen.

Another opportunity for the promoters lies in the direction of a Smith-Tingle battle. These boys are willing to mix, but so far the promoters have not been able to get them together. The match would undoubtedly be one of if not the best ever staged here if they could be brought together, and if the promoters are alive to will undoubtably prove a big factor in today's events, although not enough of one to upset calculations appreciably. As matters now stand the Stitt and Stephen pony, Cock o' th' North will go to the post as the choice of all the form players, with second choice resting between Abbeyfield White Knight, Shenkoland and Young Bill.

Great Boxing Program At New Carlton Friday

their opportunities they will see that this is done.

In the meantime arrangements are going along swimmingly for Friday's program at the New Carlton. As in the previous bouts, the ring will be erected in the middle of the floor, affording a good view for all. The last boxing card at the New Carlton was a corker, and should have been witnessed by an even larger crowd than the one that saw it. At that time, however, there were numerous counter attractions which tended to keep the customers away. This time, so far as is now known, there will be nothing else doing, and with a card of such class in prospect the big ball room should be filled.

BABE RUTH VOTED MOST VALUABLE PLAYER OF YEAR

Yankee Slugger Wins Unanimous Approval Of Writers' Committee

Chicago, Oct. 30.—George Herman Ruth, the Yankee slugger, was awarded the American League trophy for the player of greatest service to his team during the 1923 season.

The award was made by a committee of eight baseball writers.

Ruth scored the highest number of points for the honor possible, setting a record that can be equalled, but never beaten. He was the unanimous choice of the committee of eight—one from each of the American League cities—placing him at the top of the list of every ballot for a total of 64 points.

Eddie Collins, veteran second sacker for the Chicago White Sox, was placed next with 37, being selected by all eight committeemen as second only to the Babe in services rendered his team. Harry Heilmann of the Tigers was third, and Walter Gerber, the flashy shortstop at St. Louis, was ranked fourth, although Joe Sewell of Speaker's tribe scored an equal number of points, 20. Jamieson, also of Cleveland, was a scant point below with 19.

Ruth's name is to be inscribed on the tablet for 1923 and placed next to that of George Sisler, who was voted the greatest player of 1922, the first year of the award, on the $100,000 American League monument to be built in East Potomac Park, Washington, D. C., by the American League and presented to the government.

Twenty-two players figured in the decision, the official vote being:

Bronte Poems

The poems of the Bronte sisters have never been so well known as their novels. Nor perhaps is this matter for surprise in the case of Anne or of Charlotte Bronte; but the undoubted genius of Emily Bronte's; poetry is allowed to be too much overshadowed by her great novel, "Wuthering Heights." Even in her least successful poems, as one of her critics has said, "there are lines which glow and sparkle like gems with hidden wells of lucent fire." The complete poems of Emily Bronte and Charlotte Bronte, edited by Clement Shorter, arranged and collated with notes and bibliographical introductions by C. W. Hatfield, will be published shortly in two volumes by Messrs. Hodder and Stoughton, who will also reissue simultaneously the Complete Poems of Anne Bronte; edited by Clement Shorter, which was originally published by them in 1920. Everything that was written by these incomparable sisters has a quality and interest of its own and the lyrics of Emily Bronte add to the riches of our poetical literature. The three volumes are rich in new material and quite half the poems by Charlotte Bronte are published here for the first time.

"Meter Inspector" Without Credentials Is Haled Into Court

Another unauthorised electric meter inspector was haled into the Mixed Court yesterday, following an unsuccessful attempt to deceive a Chinese householder at 841 North Soochow Road.

The supposed inspector made the mistake of calling at 7:30 in the evening and asking to read the meter only one day after the legitimate Municipal meter reader had visited the place. Asked for his credentials he could not produce them and so the householder took him to the station. On the way there the accused asked to be released, stating that he had made a mistake. He was employed by the Chapei electric light works. The case was remanded until Thursday to investigate this claim.

Electors Of Tsao Kun Fare Hard In Canton

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, Oct. 28.—The Canton newspapers are publishing the names and home addresses of those Cantonese members of Parliament who are accused of having accepted bribe for electing Marshal Tsao Kun President. Many of the families of the accused have moved out of the local jurisdiction by taking passage to Hongkong

October 28, the 19th day of the 9th moon according to the Chinese calendar, being the 12th anniversary of Kwangtung independence when the last Manchu Viceroy was forced to flee from Canton, the Cantonese celebrated the day by holding an anti-Tsao Kun parade. The Kuomintang Political Party, the labor organisations, and the students participated in the demonstration.

Dr. Sun Yat-sen has held another council of war to devise new means of capturing Waichow. The fall of Waichow has several times been reported by interested parties in Canton for political purposes, but there is no foundation for these reports.

Coolies and persons belonging to the laboring classes are still pressed into military service by the police when asked to supply labor for the military. Since the beginning of the fighting early last spring some 40,000 coolies have been drafted into service. But, according to a statement made by General Fan Shek-sheng of the 2nd Corps of the Yunnanese Army the other day, he has not received a single man from the Commissariat-General of the Constitutional Army for carrying parties, notwithstanding the fact that several thousands of coolies have been pressed.

Dr. Sun is ordering General Hsu Chung-chi to look into the state of the finances and the working of the Commissariat-General, through which most of the war funds have been spent.

M. M. Borodin, the Russian Trade Commissioner, is now in Canton. No formal negotiations have been arranged between his Government and the local authorities.

The building contractors in Canton, involving some 900 or more carpentry and masonry shops, are refusing to take out licenses as requested by the Canton Municipal Department of Public Works. At present all construction work in Canton is stopped, except a few works which are nearing completion. The contractors do not like the regulations, which provide for the imposing of a tax of $50 a 1st class, $20 for a 2nd class and $10 for a 3rd class license, allowing those taking out 1st class licenses to undertake any amount of work, while limiting the 2nd class to undertaking work calling for an expenditure of less than $10,000 and the 3rd class to work costing less than $1,000.

Other protests against raising the public revenue by means of registration or licensing orders come from the doctors throughout the province, who are being pressed by the Secretary of Home Affairs to register at a cost of $10 each, the lawyers, who have been ordered by the South China Supreme Court to take out a seal from the court for notary purpose also at $10 a piece and the fire-cracker manufacturers, who are required to affix revenue stamps to every package of their products.

The Cantonese public is suffering from all manner of taxation but out of respect to the old man, Dr. Sun Yat-sen, there is not much open opposition, other than the protests previously reported. The less tolerant, however, are energetically opposing the surtax on brothels in order to raise extra funds to support education.

German Is Fined $10 For Threatening Coolie With Pistol

R. Schone, a German sailor, was ordered to pay a fine of $10 or go to jail for a week by the Mixed Court yesterday for threatening a richsha coolie with an imitation pistol on North Soochow Road Monday night. According to the coolie's evidence, the accused rode to a point on North Soochow Road and failed to pay the legal fare. When the complainant protested the sailor drew a water pistol, which the coolie took to be a genuine weapon. The Court ordered the pistol confiscated.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

November 6, 1923

Spot bar silver was up ⅛d. and forward ⅛d. in London yesterday. The New York price advanced to 68⅝ cents and the London-New York cross rate to 446¼.

Our official quotations here today were unchanged from yesterday and our market was steady throughout the day. There were sellers of Sterling at 3s. 1⅛d. November delivery, 3s. 1⅛d. December and 3s. 1⅜d. January.

There were sellers of Gold Dollars at 69⅞ up to China New Year and sellers of Yen at 69¾.

The undertone of the market was perhaps a shade cashier than yesterday and there were good buyers of all currencies at a fraction above the rates mentioned.

Banks were quoting 3s. 2d., 71¾ and 1240 for Sterling, Gold Dollar and Franc bills respectively.

China bought silver in London yesterday and American sold, the market being uncertain at the close. New York report their market as steady.

Philippines Once Home Of Chinese Says Archaeolgist

(Reuter's Service)

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 9.—Important discoveries with regard to the pre-historic past of the Philippine Islands have been made by an archaeological expedition headed by Dr. Carl E. Guthe, according to a report received today at the University of Michigan. Dr. Guthe hints strongly for the first time that Chinese formerly inhabited the island, a conclusion which he says is substantiated by the deposits unearthed by him during the last year. Material so far discovered includes hundreds of pieces of pottery, broken and unbroken, much of it of the Ming Period, some Tang, some Sung, and much yet to be identified. There also have been found human bones, chip-stone and iron implements and weapons, copper and bronze articles, gold inlaid teeth and gold, shell, coral, class and stone ornaments. Dr. Guthe values several of the articles at many thousands of dollars each, apart from their scientific value. They become the property of the University and will be brought here, giving the school the only collection of its kind in the world.

COOLIDGE SEES BRIGHT FUTURE FOR BUSINESS

Continuation Of Prosperity In U. S. Looked For By President

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Oct. 9.—Although not desiring to pose as a prophet, President Coolidge regards the business future of the country as promising and looks for a continuation of present conditions, which he believes on the whole are good.

The President has received through members of his Cabinet, leaders in industry and agriculture, and representatives of labor, information which has enabled him to make a survey of the present economic condition of the country.

From these reports the future may be indicated to a certain extent, in the President's opinion, and his belief is that there need be no apprehension as to continuance of present conditions.

Difficulties have been met in some sections, notably in the oil fields of Oklahoma, which, Mr. Coolidge has been informed, are feeling the effect of production in California fields and in the spring wheat belt of the central northwest.

The President, however, is confident that these difficulties will be alleviated within the next few months.

Reports received by the President show that corn prices are high; the price of range cattle, not as high as might be desired; the price of fat cattle satisfactory; good orders in the textile industry and plentiful employment for workers in the steel and iron industry.

Silver and copper mining and related industries it was declared today at the White House are experiencing some difficulty.

Yiyang Maru En Route Here Now For Repairs

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Ichang, Oct. 27.—Customs seizures of opium this year total 104 piculs, which is more than was seized last year. Seventy-four piculs (118,400 ounces) were burned on October 23. This quantity, although the local value is only $2 an ounce, would probably have represented about $500,000 if it had reached its destination, Shanghai.

The Yiyang Maru came safely into port three days ago after her many tribulations, she left for Shanghai yesterday morning she will be properly repaired. There is still no word of the release of the Japanese and Chinese captives held by the soldiers or brigands in Szechuen, who are adamant in their demands for a ransom of $1,000,000. The leader informed one of the Japanese Consuls that he took military orders from his superior, General Hsiung Keh-wu, but, as this was a matter of "private business," he would take orders from no one, and only the production of the dollars would move him.

The steamers have had a comparatively quiet time since Chungking fell to the First Army. Only a few shots have been fired. Now, however, an attempt is being made to stop communicaton with Chungking. The Commissioner of Foreign Affairs has notified shipping circles that he will not accept responsibility for the safety of steamers if they persist in going beyond Wanhsien. Needless to say, the steamers intend plying to Chungking so long as the water allows them to go for the Northern Government did not give much protection or freedom from being fired upon even when they controlled the whole river to Chungking.

A very determined Northern offensive has now been decided upon as the leaders cannot accept being driven out of Chungking as a conclusive proof that they cannot take the province. General Wu Pei-fu has purchased the light draught winter steamer Dahvar, and she left here two or three days ago on her first trip up river. She is carrying men and ammunition for the Northern forces, and is said to be fitted with guns. She will carry a regiment of men on board, and with her guns will be able to take part in any future fighting. So there is no prospect of peace for the province of Szechuen.

A new Japanese gunboat, the Seta, arrived in port last night, and she is expected to proceed to Chungking. The Toba is here now, having escorted the Yiyang down, while the Hira is still at Chungking. The commander of the Seta is making a trip up on the Toba to see the river, after which he will take up the Seta. There will then be three Japanese gunboats at Chungking.

Admiral Sir A. Leveson made the trip to Chungking recently in the A. P. C. steamer Anlan. A few shots were fired and struck the armor-plating of the ship.

It was thought the Cockchafer might have been sent up to Chungking for the winter, but she left for down river instead last Monday morning, flying the Admiral's flag.

It is noteworthy that the Cockchafer, who is reported to have steamed all the way from Chatham to the Far East, is the only ship that has sailed all the way under her own power from a home port to Chungking, 1,400 miles up the Yangtsze.

Carlton Theater

Johnny Hines, America's popular juvenile screen comedian, is booked for an engagement at the Carlton Theater, beginning this evening. This time Johnny comes with a new feature comedy under the title of "Sure Fire Flint," taken from a story by Gerald C. Duffy, known for his stories filled with pep and dash. Those who remember Johnny in "Burn Em Up Barnes" will certainly welcome him in his latest photo play. In "Sure Fire Flint" Johnny will keep everyone in high spirits; he is always doing things that will bring a thousand laughs.

This picture is filled with many a thrill, especially the one where he races his automobile across a railway crossing only to have it demolished by the dashing express train. Also the scene taken from the trenches, where he holds up a card and has it punctured by a rifle ball from an alert Heine sharp-shooter, not omitting the big cabaret shots, where Johny proves himself a regular Vernon Castle. There are many other scenes that will bring forth true hearty laughter.

Mr. Hines is surrounded by a cast of well known people, including the beautiful Doris Kenyon, Effie Shannon, Robert Edeson, Edmund Breese, J. Barney Sherry, Charles Gerrard and others.

Madison Square Stoves

No Heat Wasted

The cheerful glow of the Madison Square Stoves is as welcome as any open fire, and these stoves have greater advantages. No dust, smoke or fumes can escape into the room. They are easy to light, and heat very quickly. The revertible flue allows free draught when necessary, or causes the heat to radiate with only the fumes escaping.

SELF FEEDING

The top swings round for filling the container. The fire receives a gradual supply of fuel without attention. Limited space prevents mention of all the advantages of these stoves. We have a design suitable for every purpose.
